MEMBER GRIFFIN: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Yes. Member Griffin.

MEMBER GRIFFIN: Okay. Um, on behalf of Canton Ex-News Boys, you know last Friday we had a very successful campaign in collecting. We froze our ears off and other parts so, anyway, (LAUGHTER) ah, okay, if anybody did have a chance to pick up a paper and to contribute, I do have some papers with me. We're still counting money and we appreciate your support and thank you. And, thank you Mr. President.

MEMBER WEST: Mr. President. Right here.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Member West.

MEMBER WEST: Over here.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Sorry.

MEMBER WEST: Um, actually, I don't know, hopefully everybody went to the light, light up downtown, lights on, what is it called? Light Up. And, it was a wonderful fire works display. I think that was, really, it was freezing but it was a wonderful display and I just wanted to ah, congratulate the Administration for making that happen. (APPLAUSE)

MAYOR CREIGHTON: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Madame Mayor.

MAYOR CREIGHTON: Um, thank you Councilman West. I appreciate the accolades but honestly, the credit goes to the Canton Regional Chamber of Commerce and all the many volunteers some of which are probably in this room that helped put on that event. The City is a partner, um, but it is really the stewardship and the dollars that the Regional Chamber of Commerce raises to put that event on.

BUDGET DIRECTOR CONDE: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Yes.

BUDGET DIRECTOR CONDE: I just wanna let the Council and the public know that our ratings came back for our bond from Standard and Poores and Moody's. Standard and Poores we remained at our A+ level where we wanted to stay and Moody's because of the hard work of a lot of Councilmembers in fact, we were able to up, increase that and upgrade to an A2, which is an increase from the A3. Ah, so thank you all very much

MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF DECEMBER 11, 2006

Councilmembers who helped, all the Councilmembers, it was sited that leadership was one of the things that moved us up a little bit so I would like to publicly thank everyone for that. (APPLAUSE)

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: That's right. (APPLAUSE)

MEMBER HART: Yeah, Mr. Pre...ah....

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: I know that Member Hart has something to say.

MEMBER HART: Yeah. I just want to thank everybody um, for probably the last 15 years ah, with the recycling. The words of encouragement that, ah, I've been given in, in with this past Administration or with this Administration, um, I just wanna say thank you but ah, with the group of kids that was here last week, um, you know, they did a rap and Bill and Greg, you know, kinda issued me more of a challenge than anything else, and I, I'm really not much of a rapper, but I, I do consider myself kind of a poet. So, I guess if you guys would just give me a minute, and, and,..... indulge me....

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: I think that's all, that's all the time you have Member Hart. (LAUGHTER)

MEMBER HART: Okay. Thank you. But it was a fore, night before Christmas, when all through this City, all the snow-covered houses were sitting so pretty. The trash cans were all lining the streets with the dusting of new fallen snow, in hopes that the Sanitation workers and recycling would soon be ready to go. The cans were all nestled in neat little rows, with a vision of landfills dancing in their heads. Mom in her pj's and I in my hat, felt like we had just gone down for a long winter nap. When, out on my lawn there arose such a clatter, I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter. Away to the window I flew like a flash, and opened the shutter and thru up, open the sash. The moonbeam on the breast of the new fallen snow, gave a luster of mid-day to the trash cans below. When what to my wondering eyes did appear, but a brightly colored sanitation truck with three antlered-clad orange vested workers who wanted to look like reindeer. With the lovely little driver so lovely and quick, I knew it must be the Mayor who thought she was St. Nick. (LAUGHTER) Oh she was dressed so slick. More rapid than the eagles, her staff, oh how they flew, and she whistled and shouted and yelled at them by name. Now Joe, Bernie, Chip, you did it again. Get off this guy's yard, clean up the mess, he's the only Republican on Council I guess. (LAUGHTER) Quick.... clean up the trash and we'll dash all the way. As dry leaves that before wild hurricane fly, when they meet with an obstacle, they mounted the recyclables and trash to the sky. Over, all over the yard and to the house top, the trash flew, with the truck full of recyclables they took off too, like a rocket to continue their route. And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof, the rustling of a trash can coming down my slate-shingled roof. Down on my yard, the can hit with such a clatter, waking all the neighbors to see what was the matter. Janet, Joe, Bernie, Chip all looked back in wonder, when the neighbors yelled, I'm calling my Councilman. He or she will straighten out this matter. Her eyes how they twinkled; how merry her smile, when Janet said stop, just wait just a while. Joe, Bernie, Chip, gritting their teeth looked at each other in total disbelief, she gave them the kind look, they had done nothing wrong. With a grin they spoke not a word, putting paper on one side, splitting with metal on the other side down. The guys turned to Janet and gave her a whistle, let's go have some fun and they headed to town. They bound, they bounded for the truck, not a step did they lose, let's go visit Councilmembers they mused. So to Casar, said Joe, we'll go and make some noise. Let's get him up early, maybe some coffee he'll have ready for us boys. The Mayor said, maybe for me, but not you, you be silly. At Joe's house, we'll make him with a, wake him with a siren so loud, to wake him up his dream of recycling, that bound, that bound to make him think he's back at Station 8 he made so proud. (LAUGHTER) Then to Mary's house the pillars will rock when we pull up, we'll sound the siren so loud. Then at Bill's house, we hope to find meat so fine, set out at the curb on us to dine because at Greg's house, we find his quarter hotdogs, even though... yeah, there's still.... kinda devine. Going to Tom's house we got lost. We went east and not west. At Jim's we'll pick up the tree, the City gave back because it fell over when the wind sent it over with a blast. At Kelly's we'll find a woman full of beauty and grace, ready to meet recycling head-on with a smiling face. At Terry's we'll find a Councilman who doesn't find recycling out of date or out of place. On to Dave's house, we've gone, he's gone early to golf, with used Tee's to play 9 holes at First Tee's, before anyone can see how badly he plays, just between you and me. On to Butch's house we go, hoping his ward takes the lead in recycling, here he goes. President Schulman an old environmentalist you see, has been recycling for generations before you and me. Down the brightly lit snow-covered street, the Mayor and her staff flew singing happiest of holidays and many happy days of recycling to you. Thank you. (MANY APPLAUSE AND KUDOS TO MEMBER HART!)

MEMBER SMUCKLER: Mr. President.

MEMBER CASAR: Mr. President.

MEMBER SMUCKLER: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: The next time I'm gonna..... the next time Member Hart says I have a little poem, to read, I promise you, I will censor it down to 3 minutes.

MEMBER CASAR: Thank you.

MEMBER SMUCKLER: Mr., Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: And, I'm just glad there aren't 140 Councilmembers. Member Smuckler.

MEMBER SMUCKLER: Mr. President um, Mayor, could I ask you a question? Um, I saw that Prince was signed at the half time Super Bowl, do you think that we could get a second act in if you called the NFL up real quick?

MAYOR CREIGHTON: Um, Mr. President. If, if we can't get him there, we'll have him for Hall of Fame next year. (LAUGHTER)

MEMBER CARBENIA: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Member Carbenia.

MEMBER CARBENIA: After that filibuster, (LAUGHTER) he mightta lost a couple votes.

MEMBER CASAR: Mr. President.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: Member Casar.

MEMBER CASAR: I certainly don't wanna recycle that so, I move we adjourn; seconded.

PRESIDENT SCHULMAN: All.....moved and seconded; all in favor.... or, I'm sorry. What? Roll call vote please.
